

Weber County Development Process

In an effort to streamline the building permit process, Weber County has produced this packet as a means to assist you in understanding the application procedure and requirements when applying for a building permit. This packet includes the necessary submittal checklists outlining the required information you will need to prepare and provide for a complete building permit submittal.

Prior to any site or construction designs, please contact our office for assistance in determining if the property is considered a “Lot of Record” and if the building lot falls within a potential geologic hazard area. If it is determined that the lot is not considered a “Lot of Record”, the subdivision process will need to be approved prior to accepting any development plans. If a potential geologic hazard exists, a site reconnaissance letter or a geologic and geotechnical report addressing the hazards prepared and signed by a qualified geologist and geotechnical engineer will be required at the time of building permit submittal.

The following materials have been included in this application packet for your convenience:

- Building Permit Submittal Checklist
- Building Permit Application
- Example site plan

Incomplete applications will not be accepted, receipted, or processed. In order to adequately process your building permit request, the following materials will be required at the time of submission of your application:

- Complete and Signed Building Permit Application
- All items listed on the attached Submittal Checklist (incomplete applications will not be accepted)
- Geologic and/or geotechnical studies or reports regarding the building lot if it is found to be in a potential geologic-hazardous area
- Other supporting materials as applicable

Weber County requires that adequate proof of culinary and waste water approvals have been received and/or the applicable connection fees have been paid to the servicing providers. These items will not be required at the initial submittal stage; however these items will be required to be submitted to our office prior to the issuance of the building permit.

By following the outlined procedures your applications will be processed and reviewed in the timeliest manner possible. If you have any further questions regarding the required materials, process, or ordinances for building permit applications, please feel free to contact our office at the address and phone number listed below.
