

General Plan, Rezoning & Text Amendments

The Weber County General Plan's sets the direction for land use in unincorporated Weber County. This is done through the adoption of goals and policies. State law requires that a variety of County actions be consistent with the general plan. The General Plan is implemented by various means including zoning and subdivision ordinances. The General Plan may necessitate rezoning of property. It is County Policy that rezoning of property be consistent with the County's General Plans. The purpose of zoning regulations is to promote the general welfare, safety, health, convenience, and economic prosperity of the County.

General Plans: This application describes the legislative process by which applications to amend or add new language to the General Plan are considered. If a land use application is not in conformance with the General Plan, an amendment to the General Plan may be required.

Rezoning of property (Zoning Map Amendments): This application describes the legislative process by which applicants can petition to change zoning on a property.

Text Amendments: This application describes the legislative means by which applicants can petition to add, change, or delete language in the Weber County Zoning or Subdivision Ordinance.

A pre-application meeting is required prior to application submittal; please call (801) 399-8791 to make an appointment. Date of pre-application review meeting: 5/19/2020; 5/28/2020 Time: _____

- Staff member assigned to process application: Charles Ewert and Ann J. Morby

Approval Criteria

Staff will review your application using the requirements of the Weber County Zoning Ordinance 35-3 as follows:

To promote compatibility and stability in zoning and appropriate development of property within Weber County, no application for rezoning shall be approved unless it is demonstrated that the proposed rezoning promotes the health, safety, and welfare of Weber County and the purposes of this Ordinance.

The Planning Commission and the County Commission will consider whether the application should be approved or disapproved based upon the merits and compatibility of the proposed project with the General Plan, surrounding land uses, and impacts on the surrounding area. The Commissions will consider whether the proposed development, and in turn the application-for rezoning, is needed to provide a service or convenience brought about by changing conditions and which therefore promotes the public welfare. The County Commission may require changes in the Concept Plan in order to achieve compatibility and may impose any conditions to lessen or eliminate adverse impacts.

Destination and Recreation Resort Zone have additional approval criteria:

- A. The proposed Resort can be developed in a manner that will not substantially degrade natural/ecological resources or sensitive lands as identified in Chapter 43, Ogden Valley Sensitive Lands Overlay District, of the Weber County Zoning Ordinance.
- B. A professional and empirical study has provided substantial evidence determining that the proposed Resort is viable and contributes to the surrounding community's economic well being.
- C. A professional and empirical study has provided substantial evidence determining that proposed traffic mitigation plans will prevent transportation corridors, serving the Resort, from diminishing below an acceptable Level of Service.
- D. The natural and developed recreational amenities, provided by the Resort, shall constitute a primary attraction and provide an exceptional recreational experience by enhancing quality public recreational opportunities.
- E. The proposed Resort's Seasonal Workforce Housing Plan will provide a socially, economically, and environmentally responsible development.
- F. The proposed Resort can demonstrate that public safety services are and/or will be feasible and available to serve the project in a manner that is acceptable to the County Commission.

Project Narrative

Describing the project vision.

Since 1952, Pineae Greenhouses has been a Utah family-owned premium quality regional grower of wholesale annuals, perennials, nursery products, and holiday plants. In March 2019, the company was granted a license by the Utah Department of Agriculture and Food to produce industrial hemp cannabis starter plants at its 83-acre property west of Ogden, Utah. Pineae's state-of-the-art automated greenhouse and nursery operation is comprised of 25 acres of greenhouse and 20 acres of nursery production. Pineae has worked closely with Utah State University and many other greenhouse growers from across the country to develop low-impact, yet effective, production techniques for industrial hemp cannabis.

As a regional leader in industrial hemp greenhouse and nursery plant production, Pineae is extremely well positioned to use its techniques to assist the State of Utah in meeting the growing patient demand for medical cannabis. While the program continues to develop and mature, licensed medical cannabis cultivators need established and responsible partners like Pineae to meet the medicinal needs of Utah's patients.

Industrial hemp and medical cannabis plants are identical in nearly every way except for the chemical composition of their cannabinoids, which can only be identified in a laboratory setting. Therefore, the County should see none or nominal increased impact, when compared to Pineae's current hemp production. Pineae is located in an A-2 zone. In order to assist the state with the medical cannabis program, Pineae requests the attached proposed revisions to County Ordinances 108-7-34 and 104-7-3 to include medical cannabis cultivation as a permitted use in the A-2 zone.

How is the change in compliance with the General Plan?

The West Central Weber County General Plan offers no explicit direction on the subject of medical cannabis cultivation, but it generally supports agricultural and manufacturing pursuits in their respective zones.

The minor proposed revisions to County Ordinances 108-7-34 and 104-7-3 will clarify that only medical cannabis cultivation (as opposed to medical cannabis processing) will be a permitted use in the A-2 zone, and adjusts minimum setback language to be consistent with other County standards.

Ordinance 104-7-1 states the purpose and intent of "[t]he A-2 Zone is both an agricultural zone and a low-density rural residential zone. The purpose of the A-2 Zone is to designate moderate-intensity farming areas where agricultural pursuits and the rural environment should be promoted and preserved where possible." Like the A-3 zone that currently permits medical cannabis cultivation, the A-2 zone has very limited residential use.

Ordinance 104-7-2 further states that "[a]griculture is the preferred use in the A-2 Zone. All agricultural operations shall be permitted at any time, including the operation of farm machinery and no agricultural use shall be subject to restriction because it interferes with other uses permitted in the zone."

The proposed revisions maintain the County's desire to proceed with caution in designating certain areas that are zoned primarily for agriculture use, and that are distant from dense residential centers. Since the Ordinances mandate that "all agricultural operations shall be permitted at any time ... and [that] no agricultural use shall be subject to restriction," like the preexisting permitted industrial hemp cannabis cultivation, medical cannabis cultivation should also be a permitted use in the A-2 zone.

Why should the present zoning be changed to allow this proposal?

The applicant does not advocate a change in zoning. It only proposes minor revisions to County Ordinances 108-7-34 and 104-7-3 to include medical cannabis cultivation as a permitted use in the A-2 zone.

How is the change in the public interest?

The popularity and appreciation of medical cannabis among Utah patients has been greater than what many Utah legislators, regulators, physicians, and statisticians had previously anticipated. The state has expressed an urgent need for additional existing turn-key cultivation facilities to contribute to the responsible cultivation of medical cannabis in order to meet patient demand.

Pineae employs as many as 185 people that live or work in Weber County. The company pays competitive wages that are largely spent in or around the County. Permitting Pineae to also cultivate medical cannabis will create more steady jobs for locals - in a time when many residents have lost jobs because of COVID-19 impacts on the economy.

Because of the state's strict background check requirements for the industry, any jobs created must be provided to non-felon citizens over the age of 21 who have not been recently convicted of drug misdemeanor charges. Following an intensive interviewing, screening, and onboarding process, hundreds of hours of training will be provided to such personnel.

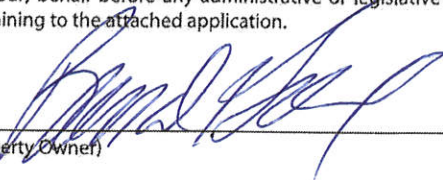

What conditions and circumstances have taken place in the general area since the General Plan was adopted to warrant such a change?

As previously stated, the West Central Weber County General Plan offers no explicit direction on the subject of medical cannabis cultivation, but it generally supports agricultural and manufacturing pursuits in their respective zones.

After the General Plan was adopted, Utah voters demanded that medical cannabis be made available, and the Utah legislature responded with the Utah Medical Cannabis Act. Weber County has adopted a cautious and measured approach to the inclusion of medical cannabis facilities within its jurisdiction, and the minor revisions proposed in this application preserves that responsible restraint while also serving the increased medical needs of the County's and state's registered patients.

How does this proposal promote the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of Weber County?

Because industrial hemp and medical cannabis plants are almost identical in appearance, scent, and resource consumption, the County and its residents should see very little, if any, increased impact, when compared to Pineae's current industrial hemp cannabis production. The company is constantly beautifying its 83 acre site and upgrading its greenhouses with clean and safe state-of-the-art technology.

As mandated by state law, the site will be extremely secure and constantly monitored. Daily inventory counts and digital plant tracking is required using the state's software to prevent diversion or theft. State regulators will conduct regular stringent audits and inspections, unlike any other industry in Utah.

Only following Utah and Salt Lake Counties, Weber County currently has the largest number of registered medical cannabis patients in the state. Among many other qualifying diseases, treatment of chronic pain is the overwhelming primary qualifying condition of Utah cannabis patients. Most of these patients have been able to supplement, or even eliminate their use of opiates by using medical cannabis. Unlike the death and devastation that opiates have wrecked on society, there are no recorded overdose deaths caused by medical cannabis. As Weber County's citizens become more comfortable with medical cannabis, more lives will be saved.
