Type of Decision

- Administrative Decisions: When the Planning Director is acting as the land use authority, he is acting in an administrative capacity and has much less discretion. Examples of administrative applications are design reviews, flag lots, and subdivisions. Administrative applications must be approved by the Planning Director if the application demonstrates compliance with the approval criteria.

Background

The applicant is requesting final approval of Lakeside Acres Subdivision (2 lots), located at approximately 1034 North 7100 East in the AV-3 Zone. The subdivision lots meet the area requirement with Lot 1 having 3.178 acres and Lot 2 having 13.83 acres. There are structures on Lot 1 that appear to be encroaching into setback requirements. The applicant needs to show that these structures meet the setbacks (front yard setback) and if any of these structures are to be removed.

The Engineering Division wants an easement over the existing access as part of the easement that is on Ropelato property. A note will need to be added to the plat stating: "Due to the topography and the location of this subdivision all owners will accept responsibility for any storm water runoff from the road adjacent to this property until curb and gutter is installed." Please show the dimension from the west property line to the centerline of 7100 East.

Culinary water will be provided by a well and the applicant is in the process of having a new well approved. The existing home on Lot 2 is currently using a well. They have shown a 100 feet radius well protection easement. The Health Department has approved septic systems as a means of wastewater disposal. The Fire District is requiring one new fire hydrant, if available from 7100 East

Summary of Administrative Considerations

- Does this subdivision meet the requirements of the Weber County Subdivision and Zoning Ordinances?

The Weber County Land Use Code Title 106 (Subdivisions) defines “small subdivision” as “A subdivision consisting of five or fewer lots and for which no streets will be created or realigned.” This subdivision consists of only two lots and no streets are being created or realigned. The Land Use Code (Subdivisions) also states “With the exception of small subdivisions, the preliminary plan/plat including the phasing plan shall be presented to the Land Use Authority, in this section Planning Director for their determination, based upon compliance with applicable ordinances.” Based on these requirements, this subdivision qualifies for administrative approval as a small subdivision.

Conformance to the General Plan

Subdivisions that meet the requirements of applicable County Ordinances conform to the General Plan. This subdivision addresses water, wastewater, roads, and other issues which are discussed in the General Plan.
