To whom it may concern:

As the official medical providers of the 2023 Ogden Marathon, my team and I have assembled a varied team of medical professionals including local EMS, law enforcement, and medical experts to handle situations that may arise on the course. We have developed a comprehensive medical plan to address the potential medical needs of all participants and have partnered with local emergency rooms to rapidly obtain emergency care if needed.

Questions regarding anything related to the medical coverage can be directed to our team, through the medical lead.

The planned date for the marathon this year is May 20, 2023.

Thank you,
